

Peter Wolf Early Career Hydrologists' Event

April 3 - 4 2012

School of Geography, Earth & Environmental Sciences,
University of Birmingham

UNIVERSITY OF BIRMINGHAM

Objectives:

This Peter Wolf Event will provide an open and friendly forum for early career hydrologists in academia and industry to exchange ideas and outcomes from various stages of research and consultancy processes.

Programme:

The event will consist of three session types:

- micro-presentations using one slide;
- traditional oral presentations of papers and;
- poster presentations.

Micro-presentations are intended for very early career delegates to present their research/project design or preliminary results and interpretation. These sessions will be followed by questions and feedback from fellow delegates and a guest panel. Longer oral presentations will focus on substantial outcomes of a project. Delegates at all stages of research and project work are invited to submit posters.

Guest Speakers:

- Professor Geoff Petts, Vice Chancellor and Rector, University of Westminster
'Pushing Water Uphill! Facing critical global challenges - a hydrologist's perspective'
- tbc

Abstract Submission:

Please submit your title and 250 word abstract by February 17th 2012 to:
